

K-LOVE radio broadcasts on 91.9 FM in the Tallahassee area. I'm usually against conglomerate corporate radio, because it represents the worst of the mainstream. Arguably, K-LOVE might fit in the corporate mold, but it actually offers a refreshing alternative to all that is wrong with commercial radio. Thus, it serves the public interest. LPFM stations do, too, but maybe the solution is to allow a national like K-LOVE to exist alongside LPFMs if the national is completely listener supported. Many listeners in America want to hear something other than what's offered up by Clear Channel and its ilk, and K-LOVE offers an important alternative. For years, Tallahassee was behind other cities in FL because we lacked a Christian station. Now we have one, and we'd like to keep it!
